

Report on the Interclass Elocution Competition for Class UKG- '24

"If you're able to be yourself then you have no competition"- Babara Cook

At the Bishop's Co-Ed school, Undri, no stone is left unturned in giving our young children an opportunity and a platform to showcase their potential and talent.

The children of Class UKG being the youngest batch, were not far behind in putting their best foot forward and giving their best attempt at Elocution.

The zeal and determination they put in were evident in their recitation. The teachers played an instrumental role in cultivating this talent.

The program started with a word of prayer, which is customary at Bishop's, led by our Headmistress Mrs. Melissa Fernandes, followed by a beautiful rendition of the hymn – "It's a great day to serve the lord." The welcome speech and the introduction of our esteemed judges Mr Christopher Morant and Mrs Selvi Paul were delivered by Mrs. R. Mahajan.

It was indeed delightful to watch the budding elocutionists as they recited their poems. As in any competition the best one wins, Class UKG F stood first, Class UKG I stood second and Class UKG E was placed third.

Our Headmistress and Judges gave their valuable and inspirational feedback which motivated and encouraged the children to strive to work even harder in the future.

The vote of thanks was delivered by Mrs Nusrat Khan.

"Elocution is the art of expressing thoughts with eloquence; each word, a brushstroke painting the canvas of persuasion."

Report by: Mrs. Sneha. Gangwani

Mrs Nazish Shaikh.

English Elocution Classes UKG A To UKG I

Our Dearest Headmistress motivating and encouraging our talented elocutionists.

Our Little Music Maestros of UKG

A delightful event enjoyed by one and all

Felicitating our Headmistresses and Pre Primary Co Ordinator

Our esteemed judges being appreciated

Champion Elocutionists

